“ Just a quick note from the old Harvestore guy...I sure was sorry to read about Art in the St. Cloud Times. He and I are the same age. We sure did have fun together back in the good old days when the dairy business was more predictable and we were all younger and in better health. My thoughts are with Delores and the family as we reflect on the great life that Art had, his love of the farm, the animals and the land. I am sure he is on his way to his eternal reward.
