“ Kody, I remember when you first came into my life. I remember when you took your first steps. I remember when you rode the tractor out at the farm. I remember when you started school. Kody you were amazing young man. I remember how proud you were of the fish you caught. I can remember when you would wear your muscle shirts, you were really proud of yourself. I remember when you finished your high school years. I remember how you would help your mom with Serenity. I remember when you would go to work as apprentice in carpentry with your dad. I am so sad that you have gone to the after-life. I will miss you. I will see you again in the after-life. I Love You, Grand Son... Grandma Pat.
