“ Our hearts are heavy with sadness and loss even though we have been blessed with so many happy times and memories together with Ebert. As we begin a new year without him here we know he is with us always along with the love of his life, Ethel. Their love for each other and their family, extended family, and friends is the ultimate example of living a life by God's laws and the golden rule. We will miss them both.

God is blessing them and with them.

God's face is shining on them.

God is kind to them and giving them peace.
