“ My Aunt Florence was always smiling when we would visit the farm. My Dad (Peter) loved to be around all his sisters, so we visited a lot when we were kids. My memory is what a good cook she was. I loved her chicken! She would make for it for weddings and I could not wait to for another wedding. After several weddings no Chicken dinner...what? I was so sad I almost cried. I think we had pork chops and they were good too.

My Dad was the only boy out of 7 girls and he loved to tease them because he loved them so much.

*Love to you all,

“ Fond Memories of yesteryear flood in when looking back to the times our families would car pool together when we were young :) A bunch of us kids piling into those various pre-seat-belted modes of transport, laughing & joking around with our moms taking turns at the helm, getting all of us to school safely, while our dads were busy with the early morning farm chores. Florence was a comical & quick witted lady who had a matter-of-fact & realistic attitude about her where you were both entertained but also realized her expectations without much need for further instruction...We also shared most wonderful times visiting between families, which always meant great food, great fun & a welcomed break for all! Wishing Florence's family many loving and happy reflections of life's beautiful moments shared:)... "A mother holds your hands for a little while, but your hearts forever" ... May Florence now be reunited with her loving husband George, their son Richie, and all her loved ones who've gone before her, and may our Lord's eternal light shine upon all of them. Thanks for the smiles:) Lila
