“ One of my biggest memories of Jasper is when he would tell us he never shared his ice cream, no matter what. One day he was sitting watching a cartoon with Alex who was no older then a 9 months and in the middle of taking a bite out of the gallon jug of ice cream, cause who needs bowls, he stopped, looked at Alex who looked up at him with those big blue eyes and he caved. Alex and him shared that ice cream. I watched him melt right in front of my eyes. I knew he was a good person, and he loved people even when he didn't like to show it. Its hard to think that I knew him for over half my life, wished nothing but joy and love for him, but then I blinked, and he was gone.

“ I met Jasper due to some mutual friends and he always acted like he was a jerk, but deep down, I always knew he cared far more than he let on. He and I drifted apart these last few years, but I still thought of him as an awesome person. I remember gaming with him, the crazy characters he'd make and just how fun he was to play with. He will be missed by so many and fondly remembered always. Jasper, you truly were amazing. Rest in peace and I hope that wherever you are now, your heart is at ease and your mind filled with joy.
