“ I wish there were words that could help take some of the hurt away. I know that there is nothing that I can say, just know that you are in my thoughts and prayers everyday. Jeff was a caring fun loving man with amazing talents!!You two did an amazing job raising him and you should be so very proud!!! He will be greatly missed by so many!! I know it seems impossible to carry on, just remember he is in Gods hands now and he would want you to remember him and be happy. You will meet again at the Rainbow Bridge

“ Sandra & Ed, my heart is breaking for you. From all of his friends and family I can see that Jeff was a solid, good man or could work and fix things with his hands. Just like you and Ed! My 4 still talk about the farm in Minnesota where they met a new friend who showed them how to swing in the barn and fall in the hay bales; to dance with the polka loving turkeys, to keep away from the geese because they were mean (although Chris still wanted to make friends with them), to jump over the creek without getting wet, to fall off a deck at the lake and get wet, to ride horses (my Ed is still afraid of them) and to try and play the accordion! Just know that your family is in our thoughts and prayers. Love!

“ We are very sorry to hear about Jeff and your loss. When we watched him tinker with the boats, we could tell that was his passion. Take everything one day a a time. You are in our prayers. Please give Bree a hug for us.

“ We are so deeply sorry for your loss. We didn't know Jeff but we heard a lot about him from his cousin Tony (I'm Jodi's cousin). My grandpa had a 3 wheeler from 1960 something and my brother was trying to get it to run and couldn't. We all thought that there was no way to get that thing running so Tony said "my buddy Jeff can fix it, he can fix anything!" So we sent the 3 wheeler with Tony and he brought it to Jeff and sure enough he got it to run!! Without Jeff's talent for small motors we wouldn't be riding this piece of history. I've heard many stories from Tony and Jodi on what an awesome and down to earth guy he was and we've never even got the privilege to know him, may he be at peace up in Heaven.
