“ The other day friends and I were walking in the woodland garden that Margie was so instrumental in creating many years ago. Everywhere her touch was evident - giant Jack-in-the-Pulpits, swaths of beautiful ferns, marsh marigolds she had transplanted from the woods near her farm, a stone she carved with the message "imagine", and so much more. I could not help but think that there could not be a more perfect memorial to the loving, thoughtful, caring person that Margie was than a garden. Margie will be missed but she will never be far from our thoughts each time we stroll in her garden.

Much love to you Margie - see you later!
